

the push back from the CPS and crimes not progressing to prosecution successfully. We are currently seeking a partner Force to work in collaboration with. This partnership will ensure that the platform fits processes perfectly and we can be confident that we have fully understood the requirements.

We are constantly seeking to partner with forces to further enhance functionality, should the benefit of using a platform of this nature be of interest and your Force would like to help shape this software please do get in touch.

One other area we have been working on is Professional Development. Our current PDR platform, with its comprehensive functionality based around police HR processes, has undergone a significant facelift and is now available as a Cloud hosted offering.

We understand that Forces are under increased scrutiny with regard to leadership training approaches and have provided for the management of this with our leadership academy module. We are now working on a holistic approach for this platform, whereby our wellbeing, staff support, training and qualification functionalities will be available as added modules. Allowing forces to manage their staff's professional development together with their personal development and support.

Upcoming Events

KIM are proud to be exhibiting at the Police Superintendents' Association annual conference in Stratford-Upon-Avon from 11-13 September. We would be delighted to discuss how our professional development solution can help with engagement, attrition and implementation of leadership styles – or indeed about any of our digital solutions and how they can increase efficiencies within your organisation.
